

Name Change from Backyard Adventures to Backyard Playworld

Since 1995, Backyard Playworld (formally Backyard Adventures) has been selling swing sets. At the end of 2009, Backyard Adventures, INC announced that they were no longer producing redwood swing sets and were switching to cedar. At that time, Backyard Playworld made a decision to not only change the company's name from Backyard Adventures to Backyard Playworld, but to also add additional lines of swing sets and other offerings.

In 2010, Backyard Playworld became a Woodplay and Childlife swing set dealer in addition to Backyard Adventures. Woodplay has been in business since 1975 and is not only the "Original Redwood Swing Set Company", it also the oldest swing set company. In addition to adding Woodplay and Childlife, Backyard Playworld also began offering Rubber Mulch and Borders, Game Tables, Goalrilla & Goalsetter Basketball Goals, Flex Court, Birthday Parties, and Pay-to-Play.

Backyard Playworld still sells and services Backyard Adventures' swing sets, along with AlleyOop Trampolines, and the root of the company, DogWatch Hidden Fence Systems.

Backyard Playworld has been locally owned since 1993. It is the company's goal to search out and find the highest quality products at the most competitive prices. When considering where and what to purchase for your children, trust Nebraska's ONLY locally owned swing set specialist, Backyard Playworld.